

Everyone knows that Seth Wells lives at Erie, and everyone is begin-ning to realize that Senator Ben Paulen lives at Fredonia. The conis easy, and goes something is: Last year, one Seth Wells of Erie began to view with alarm. He that Senator Cambern, who is of the best fellows in the world, had fallen into bad company. It oc-curred to Uncle Seth that Cambern had been taken "up into the mountains" by one Stubbs, and was no longer a hard-shell Republican, but was under suspicion of being a bull-mouse. Whereupon, Seth Wells let out a shriek of anguish, put on his little red necktie and his big white has and heat it for Fredonis Rush. hat, and beat it for Fredonia. Rush-ing into the principal business estab-lishment of that burg, be nailed one Ben Paulen, a young man with old hair and a three-foot vein of stand-pattis, and demanded that he run for Perhaps Uncle Seth state senator. was unduly alarmed: mayhap good Uncle Cambern had no intention of running again, and mayhap he would anything, Address "College," care Journal. not have been such an ardent bull-mooser anyway, but the result of Uncle Seth's trip to Fredonia was highly gratifying to the newspaper the night of January 15 when Sheriff
